Mail Box Improvement Week Set

The Postal Service has designated the week of May 20-25 as "Mail Box Improvement Week." The purpose of this week is to call attention to the need for providing mail receptacles which are designed to protect the mail from the weather and are neat in appearance, conveniently located, and are safe to use.

Neat, attractive mail boxes make a significant contribution to the appearance of the countryside and streets in suburban areas. Mail boxes that meet these requirements contribute to a more efficient delivery operation, and the result is improved service to you.

Robert L. Cooper, Elba Postmaster.

Rural boxes must have the box number on the side of the box visible to the carrier as he approaches, or on the door where boxes are grouped.

Names do not have to be used on boxes but may be used. Boxes should be painted both to protect them from rust and to help their appearance.

Boxes should be at least 15 feet from the road and firmly affixed to a steady post.

Your carrier serves your box a possible 200 times a year. Help him by maintaining it properly. Have you looked at YOUR box lately? Other people do," adds Mr. Cooper.

Mike Driggers To Be Honored

Mitchell N. Driggers, Elba, is one of nine Auburn University students to be honored Saturday, May 18, at the spring meeting of the Alabama Textile Operating Executives.

Driggers, who will graduate June 6 in textile engineering, will receive the group's Textile Veterans Association Award and a $50 savings bond.

Two Given Watches For 4-H Books

The award watches are being admired by Melanie Carnley and Mike Doudson for having the best 4-H Record Book in Coffee County.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peach, Miss Cindy Maddox, John Davis were all guest at the annual VICA banquet at Florala recently. Miss Maddox was the speaker for the meet.

AEC Board Elects New Officers

Alabama Electric Cooperative's Annual Meeting was held at the general offices in Andalusia recently.

AEC is composed of fourteen electric distribution cooperatives, four municipalities, and two industries, and operates the only cooperative electric generating and transmission system in Alabama.

"In spite of the energy crisis," General Manager Charles Lowman said, "we are pleased that we continued improving capabilities for generating and purchasing of wholesale power in 1973." "In addition to planning for improvements at our Tombigbee coal-fired generating plant at Jackson, we are negotiating with the Southeastern Power Administration, a federal power-marketing organization, to obtain power from the Jones Bluff, West Point and Carters hydro-electric projects now under construction."

The AEC Board of Directors elected officers for the coming year also. They are: President - Jim Vane, manager of Dixie Electric Cooperative at Union Springs; Vice-President - Tommy Strother, manager of Peoples Electric at Brundidge; Secretary-Treasurer - Chalmers Bryant, mayor of Andalusia.

County Troopers Check Three Accidents

The Alabama State Troopers investigated 180 rural traffic accidents with 83 injuries and 7 fatalities from 6:00 p.m. Friday through 12 midnight Sunday.

The fatalities occurred, 2 in Chilton, Baldwin, Lauderdale, Morgan and Shelby Counties.

Open House Set At Nursing Home

Alabama Hospital and Nursing Home Week is again being observed throughout the State, this week, May 12-18, to honor Alabama's Health Care Institutions.

All Alabamians are asked to join in this observance by acquainting themselves with the benefits, services, and potential of these facilities in providing the health care needs of the State; and to pay particular tribute to the employees of Alabama's hospitals and nursing homes.

Across the state, hospitals and nursing homes will be sponsoring special activities, honoring their volunteers, physicians, employees, and patients, emphasizing community relations activities, such as "Open House."

Elba Nursing Home will have visitation day on Sunday, May 19, from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. They urge everyone who has a loved one or friend in the Nursing Home to visit them on that day and enjoy refreshments with them.

Let's make this a day of visitation for our Senior Citizens at Elba Nursing Home by showing them "We Care," says Mr. James Nichols, administrator.

NEAL ADKISON
Thanks The Voters Of District 74 And Congratulates Dr. John Lester

May 1 please take this opportunity to thank the voters of District 74 for their influence and support in my race for the State Democratic Executive Committee, District 74.

As most of you already know, this is a non-paying position; therefore, I could not afford to take time off from my work to campaign and could not afford to spend money for campaign cards, literature and advertising.

May I also take this opportunity to publicly congratulate my worthy opponent, Dr. John Lester, and offer my support to him as our State Democratic Executive Committee.

High-Fat, High-Starch Diet Can Prove Fatal to Arteries

By LELORD KORDLE
Number Seventeen of a Series

Arteries are seldom mentioned these days without the companion words "hardening" and "cholesterol." A lot of misconception has arisen from half-understood reports issued by physicians and medical laboratories on the need to "limit the diet" to avoid hardening of the arteries (arteriosclerosis), the condition which sometimes leads to a heart seizure or to ruptured blood vessels in the brain. That is why my sixth and final commandment is "Young arteries above all else."

Cholesterol is a fat-like substance found in every living cell. Since cholesterol occurs in all living matter, we know it is essential to the body. It has been established beyond all doubt that the body can manufacture its cholesterol needs. Further, we know that under normal conditions excess, unwanted amounts of this fatty substance can be destroyed in the body.

But the most important thing for you to remember about cholesterol is this: The consumption of heavy starches causes deposits of cholesterol to form in the body, mainly in the arteries.

CHOLESTEROL BLAMED

Today, some medical scientists place the blame for too much cholesterol in the blood on foods that actually are valuable sources of nutrition—cheese, egg yolk, liver, plant meats, and unsaturated vegetable oils.

Diet is being prescribed that greatly restricts the use of these excellent foods. Also prohibited are pork, pigs, rich cakes, cookies and all fried foods—none of which, of course, should be given a place in any diet.

Nothing, however, seems to be said about white bread, de-fatted cereals, white rice, neglect reporting the encouraging results being obtained in hundreds of cases of hardened arteries treated with choline and inositol—two members of the vitamin B-complex family.

Choline and inositol are found in most high protein foods—lean beef and lamb, organ meats (liver, kidney, heart, brains), eggs, and natural cheese.

A choline and inositol deficiency results mainly from a diet low in protein, and high in fats and carbohydrates.

If you want to avoid the circulatory disorders which rank among the chief killers past the age of 40, my earnest plea is this: Starting with your next meal, put yourself for life on a high-protein, low-starch, low-fat diet.

DON'T BE PANICKED
And, above all, don't be panicked by half-understood published reports of experiments on arteriosclerosis in omitting certain high-protein foods which are among your richest sources of the fat-controlling choline and inositol.

If for any valid reason you cannot consistently follow a high-protein diet, then I urge you to go to your nearest health store for a supply of lecithin granules. Use this natural food substance to obtain supplemental amounts of choline and inositol to prevent accumulation of cholesterol on arterial walls.

Within these Six Commandments lies the nucleus of all dietary truth. They are the keys to all of your efforts to become a trim, radiant person, glowing with health and energy.

COTTON

By Tom Casady

"I had to learn how to plant all over again when the way Marion Sanders of the Roanoke Community in Coffee County talked about his recently completed cotton planting. Sanders is one of the few farmers in Coffee County who has planted cotton this year after a lay-off of several years.

Fifteen years ago, Coffee County farmers were planting cotton. It was the main crop. The county was gradually reduced.

Beginning about 1968 only about 500 acres of cotton was planted in the county. This low acreage continued until 1973 when there was a slight increase in acreage. Most growers leased to North Alabama folks. This year probably not over 1,000 acres have been planted - up some 500 acres from last year. Presently, Coffee County farmers have an allotment of about 12,000 acres with most of it being leased to growers in North Alabama.

Better insect control plus good cotton land are the main reasons why North Alabama farmers have historically made about one-half bale per acre more than growers in South Alabama.

Coffee County cotton growers do not like to get much rain in August. Too much rain causes excessive growth and boll rot and delayed maturity. On the other hand, peanut growers like to get plenty of rain during August. So the two crops require almost opposite rainfall patterns in August.

I asked Sanders why he started planting cotton again. He said, "It's been about five years since we planted any cotton. Back then the price was low, and we were just beginning to make a lot more peanuts per acre. We were doing so much better with peanuts than cotton. We decided to go back to planting cotton because of the price and also because we have good cotton land. We've made a bale and a half per acre in previous years. We wanted to see if we could make as much on an acre of cotton as we could on an acre of peanuts. And we can, too, if we have a good year."

"We had to just learn all over again. We could not remember how much seed we planted, and we had to check on recommended varieties as well. I had the experience in the past, we never would get the details, but when you stay away from something for four or five years you forget a lot of it."

Sanders planted a 46-acre allotment of cotton, put it in 36-inch rows, and used McNair 511. He broadcast 400 pounds of 3-2-18 before planting and drilled 350 pounds of 5-15-25. In a few days now he will add dress with at least 100 pounds of Nitrogen using ammonium nitrate. He planted 25 pounds of triple treated acid delinted seed on April 17.

Sanders plants 275 acres of peanuts. Last year he planted some early corn - Pioneer 3369A. He sold it for $115 a ton and made 2-1/2 tons of shelled corn per acre. A lot of this corn returned about as much money per acre as an acre of peanuts. The corn was sold at the highest price of the season just before he began harvesting peanuts.

I might add that Sanders got one or two key rains that some of the other people in the county did not get to enable him to make this excellent yield of corn. He is doing the same thing that the county this year primarily because the corn prices are up.

Sanders and his son, Kenneth, who is in partnership with him, pointed out that Coffee County does not have a gin and neither does it have a cotton elevator. They plan to gin in Henry County or at Brainerd Stand in Houston County. Sanders said, "I don't like the idea of having to haul my cotton this far, but I do not have any other choice." Both Sanders and his son believe that in a few years if cotton prices hold up, more cotton will be planted in Coffee County. Sanders used Trifluralin to control grasses and broadleaf weeds and used insecticide sprays including Karmex to Generally, the hay fever season reaches its peak between August 15 and September 15th. However, in some areas it lasts until November.

Spotlight on HEALTH

Health & Science Shorts
Hay fever victims are advised to wear glasses, and preferably the large type, during "the season" to avoid the possibility of pollen becoming trapped in the eyes. They should also keep doors and windows closed, particularly on windy, dry days. An air conditioner turned to "recirculate" will help keep pollen out of the house.

EDITORIAL Set A New Pattern

In this day and time we are constantly seeking for answers, but too many times we do not know the question for which we want an answer. Our future ahead is one that is marked by patterns of what others have done. For instance, college is a service in which others have done before to set an example for rewards for which others can achieve. Vocations is also set by others. For many years people have worked at various jobs for which they received training from actual experiences.

We should determine what we want to do, not by the pattern that is already set. So many times people are capable of so many things but because of varying circumstances the opportunity never comes for them to set forth their talents.

Deep in the minds of youth today, doubt is created as to the workability of the past patterns. Why is their any need to improve ourselves if the world is always going to be in turmoil. If we study to carry on what is handed down to us, we are only helping to tear up precious resources for more comforts.

There are many questions and doubts as to the existence of our present society. The patterns that have been set are wearing thin and it is time to set new patterns.

We, as future citizens and leaders have that responsibility. Through constant use of energy our future ahead looks bleak and drury. Through waste of trees our land looks bare and beauty unseem. We must start today putting our thoughts into actions to help make a better world.

To make a better world, we need not go out to protest, kill, or make public enemies of ourselves. The answer rests in the fact of sincere honesty with ourselves and others. We must create better relations between people so as to create better attitudes for working together. Another thing to do is to establish our own set pattern for which our life is to be. We must learn to please ourselves with the attitude that will also please others.

New discoveries must be made to help save the land and people. These discoveries are up to us. We must study to gain better knowledge of the world's needs and compose the will-power within ourselves to speak out for our developments.

A quoted saying is: Everybody needs not to go to college, for somebody must stay back to hire the people when they finish in college. Job opportunities are vast and range through almost any task. If we are willing to work, finding a job to fulfill our wants from life will be no great problem.

Everybody has talents and the desire to find a job that will blend in with the talents possessed will help make better jobs, thus accomplishing more and creating happier people.

Because of their happiness in what they are doing, other people may also become interested.

We, as future graduates have a long road ahead of us. Our jobs are big, no matter the type of occupation. Our trust is great from our family and friends. We must not let them down.

Our questions are numerous with answers that will require diligent work and faith in each other.

Another crossroad that will be made, is yours, which will you take? There're only two roads from which to choose.

A wide road to destruction, it is your life you'll lose. But as it was stated years ago: Find the road less traveled and make it your goal.

NEWS FROM THE YOUNG REBELS

Featured this week as Outstanding Student of Zion Chapel Elementary School is Fritz Refegee, 8 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Refegee, of Route 5, Elba. Fritz is in the third grade and has been on the "A" Honor Roll most of her school career. She has hobbies include fishing and that she recently caught a trout weighing almost three pounds. She also likes to ride her bicycle and play with her cats. Fritz says she likes school because she has good teachers and she is looking forward to the next school year.

Also featured this week is David Pryor, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Pryor of the Woodland Grove Community. Although David is in the second grade, this is his first year in public school. His grade one instruction was by private tutoring. David has maintained outstanding grades. He was born in Nassau, Bahamas. He likes to ride his bicycle and plans this summer to build a tree house with his older brothers.

In Gratitude

This is our last issue of this year's ZCHS Rebel News, and there are many responsible for its success. Especially do thanks go to Mr. Cox and his ELBA CLIPPER staff, Jerry Hanchey, Faye Holiday, and Sharon Ward. To Mrs. Simmons for her production of the "News From the Young Rebels" to Mrs. Powell for logging 100 papers every week, to Mr. Green for the entire faculty for their cooperation and patience, to all the student contributors, and to all the wonderful editors.

Thank You,

Moments for Meditation
Two Roads to the Future
Well here it is that time of year when graduation is so very near. It's a phase of life coming to an end. And a brand new phase that must begin.

This phase of life may be compared. To all the years that will be spared. Another crossroad that will be made, is yours, which will you take?

There're only two roads from which to choose. A wide road to destruction, it is your life you'll lose. But as it was stated years ago: Find the road less traveled and make it your goal.

Graduation: What It Means To Seniors

Clovia: A whole new way of life and finally being able to be myself. It's a brand new kind of freedom and yet it's several brand new responsibilities.

Kenneth: Finally after a lot of preparation it's getting time to make your own place in the world.

Dretta: I can finally start living my life to please myself. Steve: Not having to get up any more Business Law.

Ruby: Getting out of school and making it on my own.

Shelia: A time to face the realization of leaving old friends to start a new life with new challenges and goals.

Tommy: Time to go from one bad thing (school) to another (work).

Jerry: Not having to skip school to go to Troy.

Debbie: Being able to say, "I finally made it." Starting to Troy State soon.

David: Not having to come to school anymore—the biggest event of my life.

Jackie: Getting to wear my little red nightgown with my little red cap.

Johnny: Knowing the true adventures of life and getting out on my own and doing something that I can be proud of.

Merle: One less place to go. Edwin: Getting that little piece of white paper just for shaking hands with Mr. Greene.

Betty: The end of one stage of life and the beginning of another.

ELBA S REPORT

Senior Breakfast

The Elba High School Seniors and their dates were honored with a breakfast on May 5, a.m. immediately following the Jr. Prom. The breakfast was held in the Elba Elementary School cafeteria and was hosted by parents of various Seniors.

The cafeteria was decorated to carry out the Senior Class theme and in the class colors of navy and silver. The Seniors entered the school the front bulletin board welcomed them with decorations signifying that this was to be the "Last Round-Up For The Seniors."

The stage of the cafeteria was decorated with the Senior motto "We Are Free To Go Where We Wish And Be What We Are." Stands on each side of the stage held green ferns and an old iron pot, place in front of center stage held a beautiful flower arrangement.

The tables were adorned with white tablecloths with silver streamers and greenery running down the middle of the table. A white candle within a cut glass dish was placed in the center of the table. Also miniature navy diplomas with navy and silver lace, and fountain pens were placed on the tables for each Senior.

Refreshments included orange juice, milk, cheese toast, sausage, and doughnuts. The Seniors would like to express their thanks to the teachers who made the breakfast possible and also to Mr. Elmer Taylor, for the use of the cafeteria.

Erma thinks Elba High is one of the greatest schools around. The improvement she would like to see in the future of Elba High is a better relationship between some students and teachers. Her pet peeve is a person who always puts on a front.

Bus, Math, Economics, orthodont, Bookkeeping, ROTC, and Advanced Grammar are the subjects Erma is taking this year.

She was 2nd runner-up for ROTC Queen. Erma attends Rocky Head Baptist Church and is president of Young Missionaries and a member of the choir and usherboard. Erma is well liked by the students at Elba High because of her personality!

Conratulations, Erma!

Lecture On Drugs At EHS

On Friday, May 3, 1974, Sgt. Billy Joe Livingston, Alabama State Trooper in charge of Public Safety and Public Relations, gave a lecture on drugs to the Sociology Class at Elba High School.

He talked about marijuana, LSD, barbiturates, amphetamines. He didn't give any "if you do, you're condemned," but he gave the straight facts on how it could affect physical and mental health.

Besides our Sociology Class, several other classes attended the lecture.

SENIOR OF THE WEEK

This week the senior of the week is Erma Smith. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Scott. Her interests are reading, sewing, talking, and people. Erma plans to attend the University of Alabama after graduation. She is an ROTC sponsor and a member of the Elba Staff. Erma also is secretary-treasurer of ROTC sponsors.

Erma thinks Elba High is one of the greatest schools around. The improvement she would like to see in the future of Elba High is a better relationship between some students and teachers. Her pet peeve is a person who always puts on a front.

Truck Hits Raised Sidewalk

This huge trailer-truck didn't quite make the curve on the corner of Buford and Claxton Streets last Friday night. As the wheels caught the curb, the jolt caused them to crumple and the low boy slid onto the cement platform in front of the old ice house, even breaking off a chunk of cement.

Charles Cox brought his wrecker truck to the rescue, but could only hold the end of the heavily-loaded trailer up. And there they all sat for over four hours. How did they get the 50-ton back-hoe unloaded? They simply got another tractor and low-boy like unto the first one, slid up to it, cranked up the back-hoe and crawled it off onto the second trailer. Then Charles Cox pulled the truck and the limp, empty flat bed up to Cook Chevrolet where he deposited them for repairs. Michael Bryan and Steven Holliday find the whole thing quite interesting.

Attention retail grocers with customers in Coffee County Alabama. Be sure you attend the special meeting scheduled for Wednesday, May 23, 1974 at Elba. The purpose of the meeting is to tell you how grocers may be authorized to handle U. S. Department of Agriculture food stamp coupons. Remember the food stamp program opens on July 1, 1974 in Coffee County, and you must be authorized by the U. S. Department of Agriculture before you can accept coupons from your customers. Attend this important meeting if you are a grocer serving customers in Coffee County. The date again: Wednesday, May 23, 1974. The time and place: 2:00 p.m. in the Courtroom, County Courthouse, Elba, Alabama.

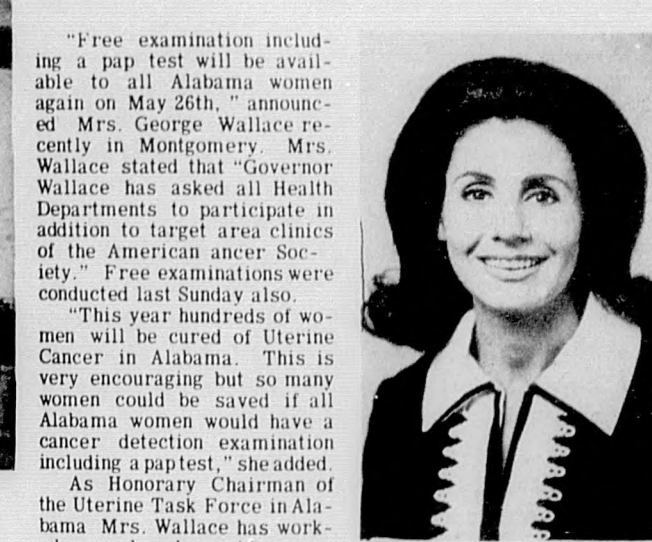

Scholarship Awards Day Set For Sunday
The Mulberry Scholarship Awards Day program will be held Sunday, May 26, 1974, at the Harris Temple Church of God in Christ, at 3:30 p.m. Guest speaker will be Dr. James I. Dawson.

Troopers Have Light Work For Weekend
The Alabama State troopers investigated 172 rural traffic accidents with 79 injuries and 4 fatalities from 6:00 p.m. Friday through 12:00 midnight Sunday. The fatalities occurred, 2 in Tallapoosa and 1 each in Randolph and Macon County.

Troopers of the Dothan District investigated 10 rural traffic accidents with 5 injuries and no fatalities during this weekend period. The Dothan District has 19 fatalities recorded so far this year as compared with 11 at this same time last year. Coffee County troopers investigated 1 accident this weekend with no injuries and no fatalities. So far this year 3 persons have been killed in motor vehicle traffic accidents in this county as compared with 2 killed during the same period last year.

FIRE REPORT
The Elba Fire Department reports no fires during the period of May 13 through 21.

Free Cancer Check Is Offered Again Sunday

"Free examination including a pap test will be available to all Alabama women again on May 26th," announced Mrs. George Wallace recently in Montgomery. Mrs. Wallace stated that "Governor Wallace has asked all Health Departments to participate in addition to target area clinics of the American Cancer Society." Free examinations were conducted last Sunday also.

"This year hundreds of women will be cured of Uterine Cancer in Alabama. This is very encouraging but so many women could be saved if all Alabama women would have a cancer detection examination including a pap test," she added.

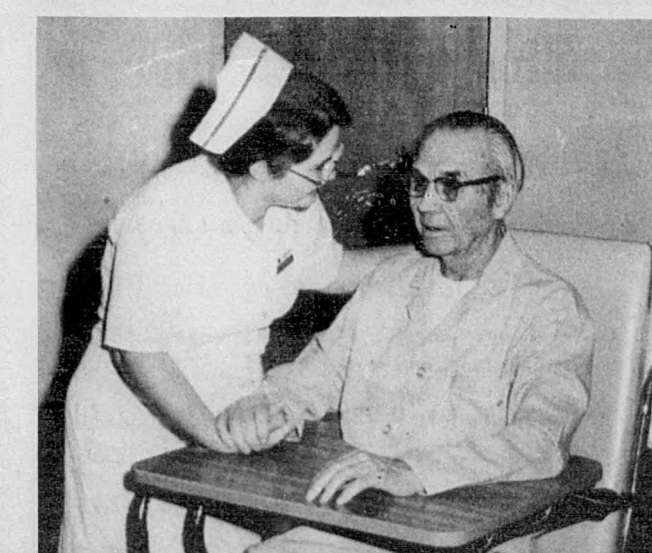

As Honorary Chairman of the Uterine Task Force in Alabama, Mrs. Wallace has worked many long hours in a coordinated effort with the American Cancer Society, Alabama Health Department and other agencies in making this program a reality. "In the United States, 90% of women over twenty years of age have heard of the pap test but only 20% get it annually," emphasized Mrs. Wallace.

Alabama women interested in having a free examination should contact local Health Office or the American Cancer Society. Time of examinations in Elba are 1:00 - 5:00 p.m. at the County Health Office. All women, 18 years old and above, are urged to see their doctor or come to the clinic for this examination.
